

Spinning Patti LaBelle's "Feels Like Another One" on vinyl is like unlocking a slice of classic Philadelphia summertime. There's something about those warm, energetic grooves and Patti's powerhouse vocals that make every track radiate with nostalgia and soul, especially on a hot day when the city hums outside your window. This record just feels right—the kind you throw on when you want to savor Philly's spirit, whether you're cooling off with a cold drink or just letting the music drift through open windows, inviting neighbors and memories alike to join in.